CRATE ART

Business was booming in the American produce industry by 1900. Fresh oranges, lemons, apples, pears, and other delicacies were available in every section of the country for the first time. Competition was tough, and the growers needed an identity for their goods, so the colorful crate label was born. This calendar contains thirteen examples of these appealing, all-American works of art—quite suitable for framing. So, step back in time and soak up the sunshine.
